

Sir or Ma'am,

I wish to state for the record that I am extremely opposed to any group or organization having the ability to infringe on my privacy and the sanctity of my home by their telephonic intrusion for the intent of selling, advertising, or for any other reason. Just as telecommunications are protected from intrusion and unauthorized tampering, so too should the privacy of my home, as well as any other private dwelling. All homes should be protected from unwanted and uninvited intrusion whether physical or psychological.

I am not a business nor does my family and I constitute a business, no one in this family conducts business in our home. What my family and I do in the privacy of my home is of my family's concern and of no one else. No business should be allowed to interfere with the concerns of my family in my home at any time. Nor should they be allowed to conduct business in my home without my express permission; yet, I do believe that I have removed that permission by putting my name and number on every do not call list that I know of.

If I am not able to have the home numbers of those individuals belonging to these organizations when they are at home seeking their sanctity and privacy, then they should not be able to call me when I do not want to be disturbed.

My time is worth money. If these organizations want to call me then they may wish to put me on their payroll as I will back charge them for my actual time on the line as well as for any interruptions in my activities at a rate that is commensurate with the activity that is interrupted. If you can't protect my interest I will.

Hopefully you will see the logical and ethical considerations here and not let business considerations and lobbyist affect your decision. You do work for and represent the needs of the people don't you, or do you represent business interests?

Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter.
Sincerely,
Ricky Lee Ritter
